SHORT WORDS.

They Are the Best When the Thoughts Are Worth While,

A dozen or less nowspaper men were something about Rudyard Kipling.

"I sotice in the papers," said another, "that he is the lest paid writer in the world at present."
"The Pall Mall Gazette people say they paid him $750 a poem for all they printed of his," ventured a third.

"And why not?" put in a fourth.

Telegraphic Anomalies.

At a recent meeting of the British chamber of commerce in Paris E. J. Hemebryk, one of the vice presidents of the Liverpool chamber of commerce, made an interesting statement and sought the support of the Paris chamber in his endeavers to obtain acceleration in the delivery of telegrams in his New York house in three minutes, while from his house in Paris it took five hours. There were countries, like Austria, which were even worse, the time for a reply being sometimes as much as six or seven hours. There could ent system than the practice which was community followed by Liverpool mer-chants. When they wanted to obtain a reply quickly from, say Havre, they would telegraph to Havre through their New York office, and they could thus obtain through New York a realy in
